WHO: Saturday, May 21:

The Grand – Eddie Money

Exciting new and old fans alike each time he hits the stage, Eddie Money and his blue collar style of Rock and Roll has managed to transcend generations as rock fans still hail Money's classic hits: Take me Home Tonight and Two Tickets to Paradise.

Friday, June 24:

The Grand – Mary Wilson

While Mary Wilson is best known for being a founding member of the world's most famous female trio – The Supremes, the legendary solo singer's career still continues to shine as she performs with the same amount of class and passion as she did during the Motown era.

Saturday, June 25:

The Grand – Felix Cavaliere's Rascals

Awarded Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, Songwriter Hall of Fame, Vocal Group Hall of Fame, and Grammy Hall of Fame, Felix Cavaliere's Rascals' legendary, fresh sound, continues to mark them as one of the best 'blue-eyed soul' groups in history.

Friday, July 15:

The Grand – Sheena Easton

Churning out hits through the decades as well as two Grammy Awards, Sheena Easton's 80's tracks "Morning Train," "For Your Eyes Only" and "Sugar Walls" continue to find her success, moving audiences from their seats, show after show.

Saturday, July 16:

The Grand – The Midtown Men

Known as the high-octane, four member musical group that took the Jersey Boys phenomenon to Broadway and beyond, The Midtown Men bring to life the greatest hits of the 60's, rocking concert halls across the US.

The Grand – Paul Anka

One of the biggest pop performers to hit the surface in the music industry, Paul Anka and his song writing talent quickly moved him from a 1950's teen heartthrob to a classic artist with countless chart hits under his belt.
